ABOUT

NewEnglandRuns.com was created by runners who wanted an easier way to find upcoming endurance events and past race results in the New England area.

With thousands of running events and endurance races, our calendar is the go-to source for athletes of all ages looking to find their next race or endurance event.

Our race results section provides participants with mobile-friendly, searchable race results. Athletes can claim their performances to track their race history and can even compare their race performances with the Age Graded times and scores that we add to all uploaded results.

Want to grow your event? Target local participants with our race promotion options and get your event noticed by the New England running community. Contact us today to get started!
